REFUSED TO GO INTO WATER

The Building of the Vessel a Splendid Achievement for the Yard at Peters burg, and the Trouble in Launching Was Due to Her Size.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) (Special Dispatch to The Times.)
PETERSBURG, VA., October 10.—The "General About," the large ocean-going hydraunc seit-propening drease being built in this city by the Petersburg from Works Company for the United States Government, refused to seave her stays this morning and the several thousand this morning, and the several thousand people who had gathered to witness the launching were disappointed. It was an ideal day for the plunes, and everything seemed in readmass. On account of the length of the vessel it will have to go into the water sideways, and on account of this plobably, more than anything also, the launching was necessarily postponed.

The boat was gaily dressed in flags for the occasion, the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack, the ensign of the United States Colps of Engineers, being assigned appropriate positions, while the regular code signals floated from stem to stern.

REFUSED TO SLIDE. Notwithstanding the efforts of the workmen, the boat refused to slide, and there was much disappointment, as weather conditions were of a most faverable character. Tug boats and launches lined the river. The boat will probably be in the water to-morrow. The "General Abbot" is the largest

The "General Abbot" is the largest vessel evs: built on the Appoination River, and the successful construction places Petersburg among the list of ship-building cities. In appearance the vessel is similar to the usual type of secan steamers. It will be driven by fore and aft compound engines of 1,000 horse power and will carry a crew of forty men. It will be placed in commission at Charleston, S. C., for dredging the harbor at that place. The Interior of the vessel will be handsomely finished with cherry and other hard woods, and when it leaves this city it will be finwhen it leaves this city it will be finished completely, even to the silver ser-wice and table linen. The cost of the vessel will be about $150,000. COMING MARRIAGE.

Mr. J. P. McAllister and Mrs. Parl Akers will be married at the home of the bride, on North Sycamore Street, tothe bride, on North Sycamore Street, to-morrow morning at half-past ten o clock. Mr. McAllister is an employe of the Petersburg Iron Works. His fellow-workmen presented him with a hand-some silver service as a bridal present. Mr. George A. ### RICHMOND ELKS ARE THE VICTORS

Take the Pennant in the Tri-City Base-Ea | League.

THEY EEAT MANCHESTER

The Last Games of Season Not a Very Good One, a d Poor Crowds Saw It-Prospect for a Strong League Next Year.

Yesterday's ball game between the Elks and Manchesters of the Tri-City League closed the season and placed the pennant in the hands of the Richmond aggregation. Six innings and a half were played, and the Elks had the big end with a score of six to two.

Commencing in the early summer Squire Charles Donati got together a lot of players and started the ball a rolling. And it was not until Umpire Dick Duke called time yesterday did that ball stop rolling. Then it was wrapped in a nice piece of cloth and laid in one of the pigeon holes of the large desk in the office of the 'Squire. With the idea of pleasing the people in the first of the season, 'Squire Donati got Petersburg, Manchester, the Elks and the Brownies to come into the league. Later Petersburg dropped out league. Later Petersburg dropped out and Newport News came in, filling the vacancy. But they soon withdrew. Fulton got the little end of the game when Manchester gave them a severe drubbing two weeks ago, and the members resolved to guit Rut Manchester and resolved to quit But Manchester and the Elks fought it out to the finish. BUT FEW WERE THERE.

The game yesterday was witnessed by a very small crowd considering the fact that it was the last of the season, but then the Horse Show had the populace As the official score will show there were many errors, and Thomas, who did the twirling for Manchester, deserved to win the game. Bishop, who did the tossing act for Richmond some two or three years ago, handed them up for the Elks, but he didn't set anything on fire with his speed or curves. Johns, the tiny fellow who started in to hold the delivery of Thomas, could not catch or throw. The crowd yelled "Be careful throw. The crowd yelled "Be careful son," and "sonny" got careful right at once. Then Holland, the genial captain of the Manchester team, went behind the bat, and Johns held down the bench. McLeevy went out to second base on the Elks and let Hicks got the hand! the Elks and let Hicks get the benefit of the speed of Bishop. There were some wild throws and some bad catches, and some punk batting and some slow baserunning and some more errors, but the crowd stood the pain and sat And then they gathered around the play-ers and the management and cheered for the success of the league next year. If Squire Donati can get any players here there will be a league. In fact, it can be safely asserted that at least five cities will come into a league next season, and each one of them will put up a forfeit to insure good ball.

In the meantime Richmond College in-vites the attention of the city to the game of foot-ball with Randolph-Macon College to come off Saturday, And each of these colleges is saying it is going to win. A look at the official score for yesterday would appear interesting, so here lard, of Fairfax, was a prominent figure in the lobby of the Jefferson last night. In company with General William H. Payne and Colonel Thomas Smith, of Warrenton, Captain Willard was discussing political matters of interest. "I did not go to the Horse Slow to-night," said the popular young presiding officer of the Senate. "To use a plain expression," he continued, "I am played out. I spoke with Congressmin at Stafford Major C. M. Bolton and wife of Al-C H. to-day, and the trip was a pretty long one across the country."

Captain Wil.ard's services on the stump are much in demand, and he has developed into a most popular platform to-day, and the trip was a developed into a most popular platform orator. He will go to Lee county to speak for Judge Rhea on Monday, and on October 77th he will appear at Orange court with Congressman Rixey, Captain Willard did not care to discuss the gubernatorial campaign of 190, so far is it in the future, but those who are close to him know that he is laying his plans to the monday and the proper time.
